What is "only on Per Capita Basis Residence Tax"

Personal residence tax is the sum of two taxes: "per capita" and "per income."

"Per capita basis" is taxed equally on those whose income exceeds the tax-exempt limit, regardless of your previous year's income. "Per income tax" is calculated and placed according to your income in the previous year.

"Only on per capita basis residence tax" means that "per capita basis" is taxed and "per income tax" is not.
