

About Network-type Compact City

o Characteristics

- Forming a base where urban functions and population are concentrated (compacting)
- Developing a public transportation network and road network connecting each base (networking)

o Future vision of the city

- Compact area with all the necessary functions for daily life
- Urban space that is formed to enhance the quality of life of citizens and the value and vitality of the city.

